Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy describes the privacy practices of the Bujulo social media platform that Flyndtech pvt. ltd., offers as a mobile application (the “App”). Bujulo provide messaging, images posting, videos posting and other features to users.

About Bujulo

Bujulo is a new type of multi-messaging social media App based on text messaging, short video-sharing, live stories and livestreaming. Our mission is to capture and present a 'Super app' . It's a place to meet with friends and with new people to Chat, share short-form video, and have impromptu conversations through livestream . Many types of unstructured content can be sent with the Bujulo Platform, including text, audio, images, video, and files.

To protect that, we also take your privacy seriously and use personal information to make Bujulo work well for you.

While we may collect your data from your other in-app activities keeping in mind and respecting your privacy Bujulo cannot see your Private Messages and Calls.

Information You Provide

- Your Account Information. You must provide your mobile phone number and basic information (including a profile name of your choice) to create a Bujulo account. If you don't provide us with this information, you will not be able to create an account to use our Services. You can add other information to your account, such as a profile picture and "about" information.
- Your Messages. We do not retain your messages in the ordinary course of providing our Services to you. Instead, your messages are stored on your device and not typically stored on our servers. Once your messages are delivered, they are deleted from our servers. The following scenarios describe circumstances where we may store your messages in the course of delivering them:
 - Undelivered Messages. If a message cannot be delivered immediately (for example, if the recipient is offline), we keep it in encrypted form on our servers for up to 30 days as we try to deliver it. If a message is still undelivered after 30 days, we delete it.
 - Media Forwarding. When a user forwards media within a message, we store that media temporarily in encrypted form on our servers to aid in more efficient delivery of additional forwards.

Our Privacy principles

If you decide not to read these entire privacy policy, we want you to walk away with a few key points about Bujulo privacy practices:

- Our app is designed to allow you and others to text messaging, livestreaming, hold-to-talk voice messaging, video conferencing, sharing of photographs and videos to interact with each other in real time.
 - We use personal information to provide our services, to communicate about existing and new Bujulo features with you, and to comply with our terms and applicable laws.
 - We do not sell personal information.
 - At Bujulo, we make your privacy a priority. We know your trust is earned every time you use Bujulo — that's why we treat your information differently than most other tech companies.
 - We don't stockpile your private messages and we don't publicly showcase a timeline of everything you've ever posted. Bujulo was designed so that people can see the things for as long as you want to share them
 - Even though our products will be evolving, our privacy principles will always remain unchanged.
- Bujulo may access your device's camera, microphone, photo and/or video and/or audio library or gallery.

Personal Information we may collect

Here's is an overview of the information we collect when you interact with our App. We may collect:

- Account data, such as your first and last name, organization name, email addresses, phone number, profile picture, and user name.
- Your contacts phone number (if you choose to authorize these). To help users connect with people they know, we offer them the option to invite friends to join them on Bujulo. To take advantage of these feature, users can opt in to share phone numbers from their address book or add phone numbers manually.
- Interests, usage, and connections, including information about your interests (if you choose to add them) and how you use the app, such as the types of Bujulo contents you engage, features you use, actions you take, people or accounts you interact and connect with, and the time, frequency, and duration of your use.
- Communications that we exchange with users when they contact us with questions or feedback, including feedback about interacting with other users.
- Information provided by social media companies, if you interact with our pages on their services or connect your social media accounts. Connecting your social media accounts allows the app to authenticate your identity and access limited information about those accounts.
- Device data, such as IP address (and derived location), device name and operating system, browser type and settings, telecommunications provider, operating system, the date and time of app use, interactions with the app, and the time, frequency, and duration of the interactions.
- Device Phonebook. Because Bujulo is all about communicating with friends, we may—with your permission—collect information from your device's phonebook.
- Camera and Photos. Many of our services require us to collect images and other information from your device's camera and photos. For example, you won't be able to send photos or upload videos from your camera roll unless we can access your camera or photos.
- Location Information. When you use our services we may collect information about your location. With your permission, we may also collect information about your precise location using methods that include GPS, wireless networks, cell towers, Wi-Fi access points, and other sensors, such as gyroscopes, accelerometers, and compasses.
- Information We Do Not Collect
We do not collect any Sensitive Personal Data or information such as password related to other services, chat messaging, financial information such as bank account or credit card or debit card or other payment instrument details, physical, physiological and mental health condition, sexual orientation, medical records and history, or biometric information.

Usage of information

- What do we do with the information we collect? Provide you with an amazing set of products and services that we relentlessly improve. Here are the ways we do that:
- develop, operate, improve, deliver, maintain, and protect our products and services.
- send you communications, including by email. For example, we may use email to respond to support inquiries or to share information about our new features, services, and promotional offers that we think may interest you.
- monitor and analyze trends and usage.
- personalize our services by, among other things, suggesting friends, profile information, or video contents, or customizing the content we show you, including ads.
- provide and improve our advertising services, ad targeting, and ad measurement, including through the use of your precise location information.
- enhance the safety and security of our products and services.
- verify your identity and prevent fraud or other unauthorized or illegal activity.
- use information we've collected from cookies and other technology to enhance our services and your experience with them.
- enforce our Terms of Service and other usage policies and comply with legal requirements.
- Create and maintain your account.

Research and development. We may create and use de-identified information for our business purposes, including to analyze the effectiveness of our App, to improve and add features to our App, and to analyze the general behavior and characteristics of users of our App.

Support and Maintenance. We use third party services to automatically log certain information about your mobile device and how you interact with the App. The information collected is used to troubleshoot and prevent errors, perform data analysis, and develop new features.

- Compliance and protection. We may use personal information to:
- Protect our, your, or others rights, privacy, safety or property (including by making and defending legal claims);
- Enforce the terms of services that governs the App;
- Prevent, identify, investigate and deter fraudulent, harmful, unauthorized, unethical or illegal activity, including cyberattacks and identify theft; and
- Comply with applicable laws, lawful requests, and legal process, such as to respond to subpoenas or requests from government authorities.

How We process your Information

- We do not sell personal information. In the ordinary course of business, we may share information about you in the following ways:
- With other Users. We may share the following information with other Users:
 - information about you, such as your username, name, and stories.
 - information about how you have interacted with our services, such as your content uploads, the names of users you are friends with, and other information that will help users understand your connections with others using our services. For example, because it may not be clear whether a new friend request comes from someone you actually know, we may share whether you and the requestor have Bujulo friends in common.
 - any additional information you have directed us to share. For example, if you share information or content from Bujulo to the third-party app.
 - content you post or send. How widely your content is shared depends on your personal settings and the type of service you are using. For example, a Story can be sent to just a single friend you select, but your My Story content may be seen by any users whom you allow to see your My Story.
 - We may share information about you as part of a merger or acquisition. If Bujulo pvt. ltd. gets involved in a merger, asset sale, financing, liquidation or bankruptcy, or acquisition of all or some portion of our business to another company, we may share your information with that company before and after the transaction closes.
 - public information like your name, username, and profile pictures.
 - Story submissions that are set to be viewable by Everyone and any content that you submit to an inherently public service, like Our Story and other crowd-sourced services. This content may be viewed and shared by the public at large both on and off our services, including through search results, on websites, in apps, and in online and offline broadcasts.
- With third parties. We may share information about you with service providers who perform services on our behalf, including to measure and optimize the performance of ads and deliver more relevant ads, including on third-party websites and apps.
- We may share information about you with business partners that provide services and functionality on our services. For more information about information collected by third parties on our services.
- We may share information about you, such as device and usage information, to help us and others prevent fraud.
 - comply with any valid legal process, governmental request, or applicable law, rule, or regulation.
 - investigate, remedy, or enforce potential Terms of Service violations.
 - protect the rights, property, or safety of us, our users, or others.
 - detect and resolve any fraud or security concerns.
- We may also share with third parties that provide services to us or perform business purposes for us aggregated, non-personally identifiable, or de-identified information.

How you share Information on Bujulo
